

Profile of R SURESHA

R Suresha, Senior Consultant, works for i-flex solutions limited, a global technology powerhouse, based in Bangalore, India. Suresha is a postgraduate in Statistics from Bangalore University (India). He also holds a diploma in Banking and is a member of the Indian Institute of Bankers. A thought-leader, Suresha has presented papers at various forums, including the All India Bank Economists Meet and the All India Econometricians meet.

In his banking career spanning over fifteen years, Suresha worked in Retail, Corporate and Investment Banking areas. At i-flex, Suresha was closely associated with a landmark project for developing Data Warehouse/Business Intelligence (BI) solution for India's Central Bank.. As a senior consultant, he has lead teams for implementing IT Strategy and BI strategy assignments in US, Africa and the Caribbean.

Currently, Suresha spearheads i-flex's AML initiatives, conceptualizing solutions and evolving strategies for various markets across the globe. His seasoned understanding of the domain has helped him focus on bringing end-to-end AML solutions to banks and financial institutions around the world, encompassing strategic consulting and implementation.